where it started

It all began when Coleman created the first portable, gas-powered lantern that illuminated the first evening football game west of the Mississippi. In WWII, Coleman® camping stoves transformed the way soldiers ate in the field. The company continued to revolutionize the outdoors with their cooler manufacturing in the 1950s, and they added tents, sleeping bags, lighting, and more in the decades that followed.

where they are today

After more than 120 years, Coleman® gear is everywhere you are: on the trail, by the lake, at a tailgate, or in the middle of a music festival. They're always around a place where there are friends, coolers, and campfires. So, grab a tent, fire up a grill, and pull up a chair. The outside is calling. Answer it.

product story idea

The Farm Pocket calendar would make an effective giveaway for an agricultural cooperative, whether as a year-end thank you gift to members or a giveaway at one of their events. The calendar contains detailed agricultural information that farmers, ranchers, and others working in the industry could use in their everyday work. Plus, its convenient monthly storage pockets are great for organizing receipts or other important documents that can be referenced later.

Convenient design, quality construction, and detailed agricultural information make this calendar a valuable planning tool.

During National Assisted Living Week, a retirement community could present its residents with the Shed Rain™ Vortex® V2 Vented Compact umbrella to use on their walks around the grounds. Residents would appreciate the thoughtful gift not only because of its ability to protect them from wind and raindrops but also because it would keep the sun's rays out of their eyes and off their skin. Plus, the umbrella is compact enough that it could be easily stowed away when not in use.
